Class Problems, Lecture 3

Problem 1

I have a line segment AB. I pick points X and Y, independently and uniformly on the line segment AB. (For convenience let us say that X is closer to A and Y is closer to B.) What is the probability that AX, XY, and YB can form a triangle?